Where else in Richmond can you find fried green tomatoes accompanied by arugula pesto? Executive Chef Kevin Wilken serves up that southern appetizer and much more this season as Julep's introduces its new spring menu. Come try the Court bouillon poached jumbo shrimp served over stone ground mascarpone cheese grits or grilled tenderloin of beef with braised Vidalia onions. Julep's new spring menu began March 29. Julep's New Southern Cuisine has won rave reviews by local media. "Best New Restaurant" Richmond Magazine, "Waiter of the Year" from the Richmond Times-Dispatch, "the potential to become one of Richmond's premier restaurants," by Style Weekly and many more. Julep's is located in the Historic River District at the corner of 18th and East Franklin Streets in the oldest commercial building in the City of Richmond, circa 1817.
